J. E. Combs Named Kentucky Colonel

Joshua E. Combs, of Combs, was named a Kentucky Colonel recently by Governor Edward Breathitt according to an announcement from Fred Steele, President of the Perry County Democratic League. Mr. Combs is a retired general yardmaster with the L & N Railroad.

Mr. Combs began his railroad career as a clerk at Typo July 3, 1918, and was a charter member of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks. He was transferred to the Crawford Yards September 1, 1923, as a bill clerk and was promoted to Assistant Agent-Yardmaster January 13, 1925.

In April, 1942, he was promoted to Agent-Yardmaster and when the modern yard at Dent was opened on April 9, 1951, he was installed as General Yardmaster.

On August 16, 1951, Mr. Combs succeeded the late G. L. Surber as General Yardmaster at Hazard. He retired from service September 22, 1960.

U.T.C. To Sponsor Dinner Tomorrow

The United Commercial Travelers are closing their promotional year today and tomorrow by having a member in Hazard to talk to anyone that the local members have recommended for membership.

A meal will be served at Bailey's Restaurant tomorrow (Tuesday) at 7:30 p.m. for the new members and for any member who has a guest that is interested in the U.T.C. He will explain the organization and show a film on the special benefits of the U.T.C.

Anyone interesting in talking to the promotional member is asked to notify U.T.C.'s Secretary, W. B. Halcomb, or the President, Floyd Hall.

Kiwanians Hear Ahrens On Vocational Training

Edwin H. Ahrens, Supervisor of Hazard Vocational School was speaker at the Kiwanis meeting held in Don's Restaurant Tuesday evening, November 3rd. His subject was "Vocational Training."

"Many boys do not wish to follow the same work, vocation or profession which their father had", according to the speaker.

"The challenge for guidance is to find a place for the two million drop-outs", he continued, "who will be trying to enter the labor market the next few years. We cannot forget today the 12.5 million teenagers who will make up the labor force of tomorrow. The Vocational Education Act of 1963 was signed into law last December. I would like to point out the six basic ideas of this Vocational Education law."

1. Programs of vocational education are to be geared to the labor market needs in the immediate future.

2. Programs offered will prepare students for employment in a large variety of jobs.

3. Occupational training is to be provided for young people in high school, including drop-outs.

4. The Act provides for vocational education programs to be carried on in any type school or educational institution.

5. Special emphasis is to be placed on periodic evolution of goals and progress, to see that labor market needs are met.

6. The tools of research and development are assigned an important place in the future of vocational education.

Aside from his employment with the Vocational Program, the speaker also works with "RIAL" (Religion in American Life), which is a volunteer effort of American business, religious and civic groups cooperating to emphasize the im-

Bulldogs Score 20-7 Victory Over Lynch For 9th Win of Season

By Monte Gross

A recharged group of Hazard Bulldogs completely dominated play for three quarters then held on as the Lynch Bulldogs made a belated charge, to nail down their ninth victory of the season by the score of 20-7. After sagging to defeat the previous week the Bulldogs came on to make a strong showing against the team that two weeks before had dumped Evarts 13-6. Evarts whipped Hazard last week 19-0.

Perhaps the most pleasant surprise of the game was the emergence of Keith Reynolds, Jr., as a running threat. The fleet junior halfback picked up 97 yards in 14 carries and had one 69 yard touchdown sprint nullified by a clipping penalty.

His success was due in no small way to the aggressive blocking of the Hazard defense. Often Reynolds would have five blockers in front of him as he turned the corner, a sight not often seen in Hazard this year. The defense turned in a creditable performance but the pass defense cracked in the fourth period. James Walker and Freddie Hogg both did great jobs in containing the Lynch running game and putting pressure on the passer most of the time.

Neither team made a serious threat in the first quarter in which Lynch punted twice and Hazard once. In the waning seconds of the first period Hazard took the ball for the second time on their own thirty and 11 plays later Keith Reynolds dashed nine yards for the touchdown but Hazard was unable to convert in two tries.

Conspicuously absent in this drive and throughout the game were the prolific aerial attempts of quarterback Bill Morgan which had been typical of Hazard attack in the last two games. The Bulldogs' ability to mount a sustained running attack enabled them to make effective use of the pass in an auxiliary role rather than depending on it for their bread and butter which at its best makes only a sporadic offense. By limited use of the pass Hazard was able to catch the Lynch defense off guard and grab a quick ten or fifteen yards to help sustain a drive.

The clock ran out on a drive. Hazard and the Canines carried a 6-0 lead to the dressing room at halftime. Hazard returned the second half kickoff to their own thirty-eight and from there launched a drive that culminated ten plays later when halfback Houston Hogg who missed the Evarts game due to a shoulder injury, bulldozed five yards for the score.

Morgan converted and Hazard led 13-0 with 7:37 left in the third period.

After receiving a Lynch punt on their own 29 the Bulldogs began another drive. This one almost wasn't necessary as on the second play from scrimmage Reynolds galloped 69 yards but a clipping penalty put the Bulldogs back on their own 33. Staying strictly on the ground Hazard moved to pay dirt in 15 plays with fullback Fred Barnett cracking over from the one. The stocky senior played an all-around outstanding game throwing vicious blocks to spring Reynolds and intercepting a crucial pass to stop a rally. Lynch Morgan converted and with 9:40 left, Hazard led 20-0 and appeared to have the game wrapped up. The Bulldogs from Lynch, however, showing the discipline of a well coached team came charging back to give the confident Hazard Bulldogs quite a start.

After taking the kickoff to their own 42 sophomore quarter back Buddy Gist went to the air, hitting three or four, and the ball was on the Hazard nine. From there workhorse halfback Lynn Pippin weaved and powered his way through the Hazard defense to the end zone with 8:16 left. Gist passed to end Sanford Baskin, who made a couple of great catches during the drive, for the PAT. Lynch held Hazard and took the Bulldog punt on their own 31. On the first play from scrimmage Freddie Barnett squelched what remaining hope Lynch had left as he intercepted a Gist pass and returned it to the Bulldog 35. Unable to move the ball Hazard turned to Bill Morgan who got off a perfect coffin corner kick that went out of bounds on the Lynch two. "Never Say Die" Lynch nearly scored in the final minute as Gist flipped from his end zone to scabback John Hagy, on the one who dashed 45 yards down the sideline before being nailed.

Hazard which is now 9-1 for the regular season enters the state playoffs this Friday. The Bulldogs will meet the Evarts Wildcats at Collins Field in a rematch to determine the Region 4 Class AA champion.

Red Cross Volunteers To Keep Office Open During Weekdays

Effective today, volunteers will be in the Red Cross Office at City Hall from 9 a.m. until 12 noon weekdays. Persons needing help from the organization are asked to make every effort to come in during these hours or call 438-2721.

Locally, Red Cross services will be limited to helping servicemen, chiefly by obtaining emergency leaves when there is a death or critical illness in the immediate family.

The chapter is not financially able to give assistance in other cases, such as fires, unless five or more families are involved.

Since the chapter is on a volunteer basis and many persons are involved, nothing will be purchased by or for Red Cross, except by order signed by the chapter chairman, Mr. Claude Isaacs, and bills accompanied by the signed order should be submitted to the chapter treasurer, Mrs. Duard Hancock.

Volunteers working during the next six weeks will be Mrs. William D. Gorman, Mrs. Denver Pratt, Mrs. Don Ward, Mrs.

Andy Beck, Mrs. C. C. Wells, Mrs. Bonnie Seale, Mrs. Howard Smith, Mrs. Lillian Olinger, Mrs. Joseph Castagnaro, Mrs. John Evans Bowling, Mrs. Alva Hollen, Mrs. Elbert Vanover, Mrs. Joe Duncan, Mrs. Floyd Baker, Mrs. F. C. Medaris, Mrs. M. K. Eblen, Mrs. Allie Gorman, Mrs. Peggy Cornett, Mrs. Ila Caton and Mrs. Gene Combs.

Shriners Sponsor Dinner Saturday

The Hazard Shrine Club is sponsoring an "All you can eat Ham and Bean Dinner" Saturday, November 14, from 11 a.m. until 3 p.m. in the offices formerly occupied by the Democratic Headquarters.

Tickets costing $1.00 can be purchased from any Shrine member or at the door.

Proceeds from the meal will be sent to the Crippled Children's Hospital, in Lexington. Ernest Minnich, Secretary of the Shrine Club, urges everyone to attend the dinner.

Roger Thompson Guest Speaker At Local Civic Club Meetings

"Too often community problems develop into the crisis stage before any thought is given to their solution," warned Roger G. Thompson of Kentucky Power Company's area development department in talks Wednesday and Thursday before the Hazard Rotary Club and Hazard Lions Club.

Speaking on the importance of community development as a means of "earning an industry," Thompson stressed the role of local citizens. He said the two big steps to be taken by a community to earn an industry are: (1) organize for community and area improvement, with the purpose of upgrading community facilities, and (2) have a site for an industry, with the necessary facilities so that it is ready for development.

He outlined some of the agencies that are assisting communities with their development and with securing industrial projects. These included the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce, the State Department of Commerce, the railroads and various utilities. Some of the informational and promotional material was displayed to the group, including some of Kentucky Power's ads in national magazines and newspapers.

Thompson reminded his audiences that both larger and smaller cities are competing for new industry. "Consequently," he concluded, "the greatest force we can use for our development is ourselves. Hazard will be what we make it."

"Education Week" Discussion By Hazard Principal

By Estill McIntyre, Principal
Key G. Eversole School

This week, American Education Week, has been set aside as a special time when the citizens of all communities in our country are taking a look at their schools. As the citizens of the Hazard School District look at our schools, it is fitting that we examine the purposes for which the schools exist. Every school system has a common body of beliefs that determine what the school personnel and patrons hold as the purposes of the schools. These will differ in every community because there are different needs in every community. These will differ from school to school in every community because, again, the needs are different from school to school in every community. However, within any community there is a common body of beliefs which make up the philosophy of the school system.

The people who make up the staff of the Hazard City Schools, along with the lay public, have such a common body of beliefs that we accept as the philosophy of our school system. This does not mean that everyone concerned with the work of the school has exactly the same beliefs about all the phases of school work for we are all individual personalities, and; as such, have different viewpoints and different opinions on many things. However, despite these differing viewpoints and opinions, we, in the Hazard City Schools, do generally agree that the following expressions of beliefs are those that are held by most of us:

1. We believe that we should determine the needs of the people living in our district and that we should strive to make our educational enterprise fit these needs.

2. We believe that it is our duty to identify values and value patterns that are considered desirable in child growth and development, and that we must accept responsibility for bringing about desirable changes in values and value patterns.

3. We believe that we must seek agreement on the kind of person who makes the fullest contribution to our society and strive in our educational program to provide experiences for each individual that will tend to help him to realize his place in our society.

4. We believe that our program must provide value-rich situations based upon the knowledge of children to be taught; understanding and emphasis upon the important elements of a good instructional program; good organization of the opportunities for learning; good teaching, including effective use of activities and materials, and a functional program of evaluation.

5. We believe that there should be community-school interaction. That the school program should help the children use community resources—human, institutional, and natural. That school personnel should work with organized parent groups for school improvement. That provisions should be made to utilize the full resources of the schools and community in improving the school.

6. We believe that we should recognize the individual worth of every child with whom we come in contact. That we should recognize each child as a valuable personality that is to be educated to his highest possible potential. That regardless of whether his station in life is high or low or somewhere in between; that regardless of whether he is endowed with high or low or average mentality, the child is entitled to an opportunity to learn all that he is capable of learning, and that the teacher has not fulfilled his obligation until he has done everything in his power to bring each individual child to the highest level possible. That the teacher's basic commitment is to the principle of understanding learners.

7. We believe that every school person must be aware of the fact that there is within every individual a basic urge to grow—to create. That we must help to keep this desire alive by affording the child appropriate experiences that will help him to grow and develop to the extent of his ability. That the only standard to be used in grading a child is within the child himself; that every child is to be evaluated for what he accomplishes according to the ability that he has.

8. We believe that we must be people who are not afraid to make mistakes. That we must understand that in making mistakes important discoveries are made. That we must permit our pupils to get into positions where they will have to make decisions because we know that decision making is a part of the educative process.

American Education Week To Be Observed

9. We believe that motivation for learning is within the individual and that we are to use our skill of teaching to capture this motivation as the learner identifies his areas of curiosity. That learnings are real that make a difference in the behavior of the individual, and that self-selective learnings are most significant for the individual.

10. We believe that we must maintain a classroom that is right for learning. That we must understand that learning takes place in groups where there is interaction between individuals, because children are the most effective teachers of each other and that teaching is greatly enhanced with differences in the group are known, understood, accepted and used by both teachers and children. We believe that pupils must have a permissive climate in which they are free to do some things on their own, if they are to keep the urge to grow. We must understand that good learning situations include a climate in which children feel free to relate to others, feel comfortable and at ease with each other, have a feeling of belonging, and that children need years of comfortable conformity in a group before branching out as individuals. We must know that the term "individual differences" does not mean that we should do individual teaching of every single child in our rooms, but that we must be aware of individual needs as we do group teaching.

11. We believe that we are responsible for the education of the whole child. That athletics, art, music, public speaking, moral and spiritual values, and many other activities that are sometimes considered as extra-curricular are, in reality, not extra-curricular but are a part of the total educational program.

12. We believe that parents and all other lay people in the community have a responsibility to the total educational effort. That the total school program is a cooperative effort in which both professional and lay people participate. We believe that all are responsible for setting conditions for the best possible learning that can be had.

Generally speaking, the teachers of the Hazard City Schools, accept these twelve points as the philosophy under which we operate.

Social Security Fund Discussed

"Both locally in and around dollars from workers, employed the area serviced by the Hazard City, and all over the country, we read and hear that social security is going broke," commented John Graves, District Manager for social security in Hazard. "This is certainly not true," Graves noted, "and a few figures may help prove that social security financing is sound."

The trustees who manage the social security money have just reported to Congress and the President for the year ended June 30, 1964. "For that year," Graves stated, "social security received 17 1/2 billion

Food Preparation Classes In Leslie

Demonstrations on the preparation of commodity foods are to be held in Hyden, Kentucky, at the First Baptist Church from November 4th through 13th.

All Leslie County recipients of surplus foods, and any other people who are interested, are asked to attend one of these demonstrations, conducted by the Leslie County Home Agent and Public Health Nutritionist. A demonstration will be held each day at 7:30 A.M., 10:00 and 1:00 P.M. on November 4, 5, and 6 and on November 9, 10, 11, 12, and 13.

At least one member of each family should plan to attend one of these sessions prior to picking up the family's allotment of food commodities.

Other people, such as the Homemakers, 4-H girls, Frontier Nurses, and health department personnel, will assist with the program.

Forest Lands Face Real Fire Hazard

Despite slight rainfalls, forest lands in the state are still extremely dry and present a real hazard, State forestry division director Gene Butcher has warned.

He said a total of 224 fires burned 1,558 acres of timber during the month of October. The number and average size of the fires has been steadily increasing, he added, and scant rainfalls have provided only a temporary respite.

Butcher said no rain has fallen in the western portion of the state, and the fire buildup index there has risen beyond the danger point where fires spread rapidly and are difficult to control. He warned all citizens to be extremely cautious of trash and leaf fires.

SS Questions And Answers

Q—I was inducted and served two years on active duty. How many years of reserve obligation do I have?

A—If you entered service after August 9, 1955, you still have a four year reserve obligation.

Q—I have just received an affirmed classification of 1-A from the Appeal Board. I believe that I am entitled to an occupational deferment. May I appeal to the President?

A—You may appeal to the President if one or more members of the appeal board dissented from the 1-A classification.

Q—I have noticed that most of the forms received from the board to be filled out have a ten day limit in which to comply. How is the time counted in order to be within the time limit?

The time is counted as beginning on the day following that on which the notice is posted or mailed.

Q—May I make a personal appearance before a local board other than my own in regard to my classification?

A—A registrant has the right to appear only before the local board which classified him and his case cannot be transferred to another local board for the purpose of accomplishing the personal appearance.

Don't Put Off Doing Something About Your Hearing Loss!

To put off doing something about your hearing loss is a serious mistake. Delay can actually make your problem worse. Here's the reason.

You hear because you "remember" how to hear. And if your hearing is failing and you neglect it, your memory of how to hear begins to fade.

The longer you postpone correction of your hearing loss, the longer it takes you to retrain your memory to interpret a thousand everyday sounds you used to know instinctively. This is not a matter of theory. It's a well-known medical fact confirmed by Beltone research.

If you are having difficulty hearing, you already know this. You find yourself straining to understand clearly - perhaps fighting the urge to cup your ear. If this is true, don't go on "wishful thinking". It can't help - it can only make matters worse. Instead, accept my sincere invitation to come in and have your hearing loss checked - simply and conveniently - with Beltone's precision electronic equipment, and find out what can be done for you to help you hear clearly again. Viper Homemakers Will Meet Wednesday With Mrs. Brashear

The Viper Homemaker's Club which can be flattering to everyone. Homemakers Clubs have offered an amazing amount of information on a great number of topics. Color, clothing, hats, kitchens, bathrooms, knitting, money, needlepoint, accessories, and cooking are only a few of the ideas discussed in recent months. Every homemaker should make an effort to investigate the activities of her local homemakers group.

Those in the Viper area are invited to attend the meeting Wednesday at the home of Mrs. William Brashear. If you desire any other information, please call the Viper Club President, Mrs. Millard Halcomb.

Last month's meeting was held Wednesday, October 14 at the home of Mrs. Millard Halcomb. Mrs. Cecile Townes gave the lesson on "Color With You in Mind." She stressed that it is important to know something of the qualities of colors, such as value, intensity, and the influence of texture of color.

"Some colors create an impression - such as the impression of warmth and heat felt when bright red or vivid orange are used. The effective and pleasing combining of colors was also discussed and illustrated on the color wheel," Mrs. Townes stated.

"In thinking of personal items such as clothing and millinery, women should remember that color also creates illusions of size and temperature. Skin tones are composed of red and yellow in varying amounts. We need to achieve the appearance of a good balance between the two. Dark colors are thus usually more becoming to a person with a florid complexion because they absorb more of the color of the skin. Pale complexion is enhanced by the use of lighter values."

The popular color of the season - the one promoted by the fashion "experts" and the clothing manufacturers may not be flattering to an individual. If not, it is much better to bypass the fad color and stick to something flattering - and there is always a variety of colors.

Bake A Gorgeous Glamour Cake

TAKE IT EASY DURING THE HOLIDAYS... but do serve the most glamorous food possible! Sounds contradictory, but it's good advice, and quite possible if you take advantage of the convenience foods, such as cake mixes. Folks will be sure you spent hours making this excellent Chocolate Chip Pecan Cake - and you get an extra bonus of a dozen and a half cupcakes!

FRUIT FILLED CHOCOLATE CHIP PECAN CAKE

2 packages chocolate chip cake mix

1-1/2 cups very finely chopped pecans

Prune-Pecan Filling

Whipped cream, sweetened

Prepare 2 packages of cake mix according to package directions. Mix in pecans. Pour batter into three round 8-inch layer pans, which have been greased and floured on bottoms and sides; use remaining batter to fill 15 to 18 greased and floured cupcake pans about half full. Bake at 375° for 25 to 30 minutes for the layer; 20 minutes for the cupcakes. Cool. Spread Prune-Pecan Filling between layers, frost with sweetened whipped cream. Decorate as desired.

PRUNE-PECAN FILLING

1-1/2 cups chopped plumped pitted prunes
1/4 cup dark brown sugar
1/2 cup chopped pecans

Dash of salt

1/2 tsp. ground cinnamon

1/4 tsp. ground nutmeg

2 tps. grated lemon rind

1 tsp. lemon juice

Combine all ingredients, blending well.

Encourage Tree Planting

Modern farming isn't confined to producing the foods that make us the best of fed people in the world. Nowadays, one of the important crops isn't edible at all. It is trees.

Tree farming is comparatively new. It was the product of a problem and a basic national need. In the old days, the forests seemed inexhaustible. So the loggers just cut and moved on to new stands.

Time proved that this seeming inexhaustibility of our timber resources was an illusion. The forests were going and fast under the pressure of demand for more and more of the thousands of products that come from wood. So, before the problem becomes acute, far-sighted men moved and the concept of the tree farm was born.

Its growth has been spectacular. Last year tree farmers planted a billion trees on their taxpaying lands, and in recent years the new growth has exceeded the cut. The danger that we might ultimately become a nation barren of timber is being met.

Tree farming has unique problems. Time is at the heart of them—it takes 20, 50, 100 years or more before a tree grows to marketable size. Along with this there are heavy risks—fire and depredations of insects and disease. The enemies must be controlled, and that is a costly job. So, if the tree farmer is to be encouraged, he must have a favorable tax climate. That exists, for the most part, in the timber areas and is an all-important factor in making tree farming possible on a huge scale.

The forest eternal has become a reality.

American Education Week And PTA Magazine Week Are Combined

Mrs. Joe W. Duncan, President of the Hazard PTA announced today that November 8-14th will be a two-fold celebration for members of Parent-Teacher Associations not only in Hazard but other communities as well, for two great weeks have been combined for the first time, that of American Education Week and National PTA Magazine Week.

Not only will parents be invited to attend their children's classrooms, but will also be given the opportunity of subscribing to the PTA Magazine. The PTA magazine is unique in that it is the only magazine of national renown that is promoted solely through volunteer efforts.

The magazine has no revenue from advertising, it is an instrument for informing the world about our shared concerns for children and our aspirations to them. It has made us an important medium of communication in a world in which mass communication has an ever greater role to play.

The magazine, she stated sells for only $1.50 per year bringing to you ten issues of informative articles on what's happening in physical fitness, mental health, school education, global concerns, what's good and bad in current motion pictures and television programs, and what people are doing to help disadvantaged children.

It also brings you expert coaching on how to improve the schools in your town, how to provide the services needed by children and youth in your community, how to deal with your personal problems of child rearing, and what PTA's across the country are doing that yours might do too. It is dedicated to the vital task of giving its readers the guidance they seek.

Mrs. Melvin Clutts, a member of the Hazard PTA is Tenth District Congress Publications Chairman and she will assist Mrs. Norman P. Cornett, local Magazine Chairman and homeroom mothers in securing subscriptions for the PTA Magazine. A concentrated effort will be made to place the magazine in every doctor's or dentist's office, beauty parlors, or wherever people are apt to be waiting for appointments.

Won't you "Invest in Learning" by subscribing to the PTA Magazine?

SAY YOU SAW IT IN THE HERALD

LETTER FROM MRS. JOHN SHERMAN COOPER

Cooper Power Plant Dedicated Nov. 4

At last the Warren Commission has finished the report concerning the assassination of President Kennedy. It has been over ten months since President Johnson asked my husband to serve on the Commission, and those ten months have meant a double duty for Senator Cooper.

Besides going back and forth from the Senate floor to the Commission offices, John made two trips to Dallas to question those concerned with the crime, while the meetings themselves, because of their subject, was deeply depressing. The unanimous report has no major surprises, but the recommendations, which are now under consideration, are reasonable and sound and will do much for bolstering Presidential security.

It was good to see that the majority of our press and the foreign press spoke highly of the integrity and good faith of the Commission's members. The report will help to quiet the doubts and rumors connected with the murder of President Kennedy.

My husband told me that the people who had insisted in speeches, articles, and books that the crime was a plot had been brought before the Commission and questioned and re-questioned, but none of them could produce any evidence that their theories were based on fact.

Everything they said had been rumor, heard from nameless sources and unsubstantiated. However, it is well to remember that the Commission's report states that the Commission was unable to cover all actions that took place while Oswald was in the Soviet Union from 1959 to 1962, or in Mexico, for lack of concrete evidence.

Last Wednesday was a great day in Pulaski County, when the splendid new power plant at Burnside was formally opened and a wonderful day for the Coopers, as it was named for my husband. Three years ago we had attended the groundbreaking ceremonies, and it was almost incredible to see the transformation that had taken place in the wooded countryside.

There now stands the beautiful John Sherman Cooper Power Plant, which you would know right away was a power plant because it looks so powerful. It will bring in light with its 1000,000 kilowatts to the rural areas, provide employment, and help the economy of Eastern Kentucky through its purchase of coal.

We were both very touched by the warm praise that was given my husband from both the Republicans and the Democrats who came to the dedication. Not only Senator Morton, but Lt. Governor Waterfield and former Governor Combs made talks, as did the Mayor of Burnside, Mr. Veech, Mr. Spurlock, and the REA Administrator, Norman Clapp, from Washington.

As I am on the Board of the Appalachian Regional Hospitals, I had the good luck to see the Eastern Kentucky countryside at its glorious best, when I motored from Somerset to Middlesboro for their meeting.

Also, enjoyed a happy luncheon with Mrs. Maurice Henry while I was there and came back to Somerset with the car filled with roadside purchases, honey, sweet potatoes, tomatoes, and apples. Oh, the joy of living in a small town in Kentucky.

Governor Approves $49,000 to Help Airport Pavings

Governor Edward T. Breathitt has approved an allocation of $49,000 of State money to help pay for paving airport runways at Morehead, Cynthia and Whitesburg.

Total cost of the three projects will be $272,000, with federal and local governments putting up the remainder of the money. State money will come from the Capitol Construction Fund.

Breathitt said, "These airport improvements are another example of efficient cooperation between the State and the Federal Government to help communities help themselves."

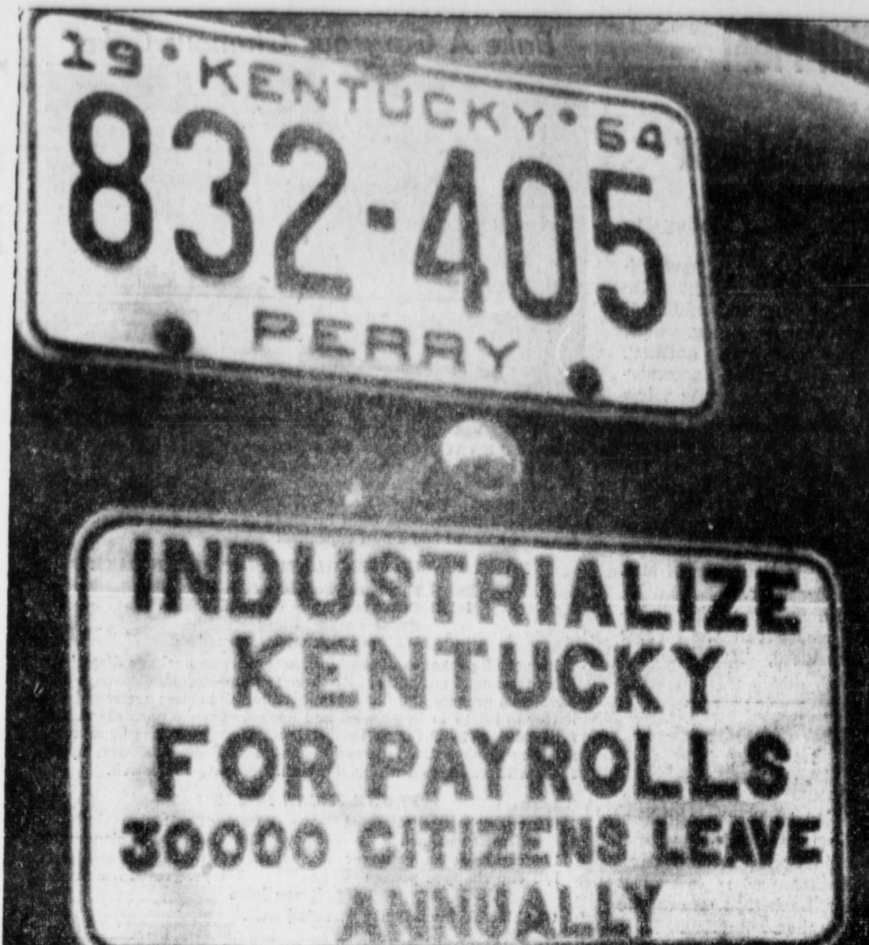

At Morehead, 2,800 feet of the Morehead-Rowan County Airport runway will be paved with bituminous concrete at a total cost of $92,000, with the State supplying $15,000; local people, $15,000, and the Federal Government, $62,000.

Three thousand feet of the Cynthia Airport runway will be paved with bituminous concrete at a total cost of $84,000. The State will supply $12,000, local people $12,000 and the Federal Government $60,000.

At Whitesburg, 2,550 feet of runway will be paved with bituminous concrete. The $96,000 cost will be divided this way: State, $22,000; local, $22,000, and Federal, $52,000.

"The paving of these runways will permit these airports to be all-weather facilities and will greatly increase their value to the communities," Breathitt said.

The Governor added, "These airport facilities will tend to increase industrial development in their areas. A community can't expect to attract new industry without modern transportation facilities, and that means airports as well as highways."

Sign on Johnson Vehicle Is Self-Explanatory

The above sign, which is displayed on the car owned and driven by P. L. Johnson, is a unique way to bring out the fact that Eastern Kentucky is badly in need of employment to keep our citizens and graduates here in our native mountains. Although it is a sad fact that thousands do leave the mountains annually due to the lack of employment. We feel sure many thousands of those who have moved away would return if only they could find work here that would provide a means of earning a livelihood.

Health Officer Gives Advice On Ringworm Infection

Now that school has been in progress several months, Dr. Lyndon F. Combs, County health officer, advises that all parents and school children be informed on ringworm of the scalp, an infection which is likely to appear among school children. "It is important to know ways to avoid ringworm of the scalp and what to do in case it is contracted," says Dr. Combs, "as it is highly contagious and often difficult to cure."

Ringworm of the scalp is a fungus infection which occurs most frequently among school children, particularly boys between the ages of 7 and 12.

The infection causes reddened, scaly, or crusted patches on the scalp covered with broken hairs. Sometimes the hairs may have a whitish sheath around them.

Ringworm of the scalp generally starts through poorly sterilized barber's instruments whether they be used in a barber shop or the home. Children can contact the infection from seat backs in theaters and buses, or by using combs, brushes, caps, or hats belonging to someone who has ringworm. They should be warned to place a coat or other garment over a public seat back before resting their head on it and against exchanging hats with their school mates.

Dr. Combs advises that if you suspect that your child may have ringworm, take him to a doctor at once. Treatment of the infection is sometimes difficult and may take a long time, but it can be cured. It will be the decision of your doctor whether the child should go to one who has ringworm. They should be warned to place a

It is at this time each year that Dean of Students Carrie Scandrett formally bestows the academic cap on each member of the senior class, in recognition of the attainment of senior status.

Dr. Eleanor Hutchins, associate professor of English, was chosen by Class of 1965 to deliver the address for the Investiture service Saturday.

The Reverend Thomas H. McDill, Jr., of Columbia Theological Seminary, preached the Investiture sermon at the Sunday worship service for the community and friends.

Homer Williams Serves in Korea

Airman Second Class Homer Williams, son of Mrs. Oma Adams of Red Fox, Ky., has arrived for duty at Osan AB, Korea.

Airman Williams, an automotive repairman, previously served at Tinker AFB, Okla. His new wing is part of the Pacific Air Forces which provides airpower for defense of the U. S. and its allies in the Pacific area.

The airman is a graduate of Carr Creek High School, Cody, Ky. His wife, Patricia, is the daughter of Anis Wilson of 2104 N. E. 18, Oklahoma City, Okla.

Airman J. Cook

Gets Promotion

Joseph Cook, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cook, Sr., of Cromona, Ky., has been promoted to airman second class in the U. S. Air Force at Luke AFB, Ariz.

Airman Cook is a radio equipment repairman in a unit that supports the Tactical Air Command mission of providing firepower and other air support to U. S. Army forces.

The airman attended Dunham High School at Jenkins, Kentucky.

Perley F. Ayer, Executive

Secretary of the Council of Southern Mountains, Berea College, will head the Appalachia Culture and Economy Conference set at Union College, Barbourville, Thursday, November 12.

Dr. John A. Dotson, director of graduate studies at Union College and conference coordinator, has announced that sessions will begin at 10:20 a. m. in the Union College Physical Education Building with the speaker discussing "The People of Appalachia and Their Culture Patterns."

The afternoon sessions will be devoted to discussion on culture patterns as assets for conserving and developing human resources.

Five resource teams will be present to expand discussions. Panelists on education form areas other than Barbourville will be R. L. Hoffelder, Cumberland College, Leonard Rowlett, Lincoln Memorial University; John W. Bischoff, Red Bird Settlement; Dr. James A. Cavood, Harlan County Schools; Hayward Gilliam, Laurel County Schools; William B. Hall, London City Schools; and W. E. Burton, Corbin Superintendent of Schools.

Other guests will include the Reverend John H. Lewis, Methodist Mountain Missions, Jackson, Kentucky; Miss Peggy Kemmer and Miss Erma Gall of Lend-A-Hand Center, Knox County; and Barbourville ministers.

Faculty from Union College include Dr. Hugh Gormley, sociology; Dr. Joseph Mitchell, campus minister; and Dr. John H. Boyd, dean of faculty. Jesse D. Lay, Knox County Superintendent of Schools; Charles Singleton, Barbourville City Superintendent of Schools; Dr. A. S. Holmes, Mary Browning, Mrs. William Hays, Randy Bacon, Mrs. Lanien Scent, and Mrs. Sharon McDonald, all of Knox County Welfare and Health Services will be represented.

This marks the largest enrollment in the history of Western. Last year 5917 enrolled for the fall semester, making an increase of 896 students this year.

A total of 6803 students enrolled in college classes for the 1964-65 fall semester does not include students enrolled in the Western Training School, in the Western Area Vocational School, or in extension classes conducted away from the campus.

For the eighth consecutive year buildings were opened and occupied as the new school year began. This year the four-story air-conditioned Terrace Hall, dormitory for 230 women, was ready when the students arrived on campus for the new semester. This makes the 12th major building constructed on the Western campus since 1956.

Two major reconstruction and enlargement projects are now underway on the campus and will be ready in September 1965. The Paul L. Garrett Student Center is being enlarged to three times its original size and the Physical Education Building will become a library three times the size of the present library.

The 15th major construction project—a five-story air-conditioned classroom building—will start construction early in December and be ready for occupancy early in 1966.

HILL TALK

by Patti Cody

After the excitement of homecoming has died down and with Thanksgiving a few weeks away, there is supposedly a lull in the activities of HHS. Pat Noble the newly appointed Senior treasurer, relaxes after the last two weeks of frantically gathering money for the senior rings.

The clubs, however, do not take this lighthearted point of view. Following the meetings of the Y-teen Club and the Future Teachers of America, we found that they have elected their officers and are looking forward to a year of progress. The Y-teens who met on Tuesday elected the following officers: President, Judy Minor; Vice president, Beverly Combs; Secretary, Jane Pendleton; Treasurer, Sheila Davis; Program Chairman, Judy Campbell; Song Leader, Glenna Olinger, and Worship Chairman, Judy Hill.

When the Future Teachers of America met on Wednesday, they elected their officers as follows: President, Don Bush; Vice president, Don Duff; Secretary, treasurer, Bobbie Joe Gay, and Reporter, David Heath.

Final arrangements for the Regional Meeting of the University of Kentucky Information Team have been made. The information team in our area will meet at the UK Community College in Prestonsburg November 30 at 7:00 p.m., and at the UK Community College at Cumberland.

All students interested in attending the University of Kentucky are invited to attend one meeting and bring their parents. This is a comparatively inexpensive and time-saving way for high school seniors to secure the maximum amount of information about UK.

Urban Schaffner, Jr. Serves in Iwakuni, Japan

Urban E. Schaffner, Jr., aviation anti-submarine warfare technician third class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Urban E. Schaffner, Sr., of Route 2, Hazard, Ky., is serving with Patrol Squadron One at the Marine Corps Air Station, Iwakuni, Japan.

The squadron, a unit of the Seventh Fleet, will be deployed in the Far East for six months. During this period the squadron will have the mission of flying anti-submarine and ship-ping reconnaissance patrols for the Seventh Fleet.

Stacy and Shepherd Of Hazard Sports Rated Mechanics

Mr. Bobby Stacy and Mr. John Shepherd of Hazard Sports Center, have been qualified as factory-trained out-board mechanics, following completion of a training course at the Atlanta Service School of the Kiekhaefer Corporation, manufacturer of Mercury out-board motors.

The course included daily instruction periods, supplemented by actual bench practice, blackboard sessions, group discussions and examinations. Full attention was given to each of the nine models in the 1965 Mercury line, with special attention to the silencing system which makes the new Mercurys 50 per cent quieter than previous models.

Japan Missionary To Speak To Group; Pioneer Group Has Halloween Party

By Della Riddle

The Junior Pioneer Group of the Vicco Presbyterian Church will have a missionary from Japan as speaker this Saturday. Jane Lamb has been a nurse for our Presbyterian Hospital in Nagoya and will speak to our young people.

On Halloween the Pioneer Group had a Halloween Party with 22 guests attending.

Rev. Bert McGraner will have the program in the Church of God Sunday morning.

Joan Stanley is going to take her small daughter, Lou-ena Lynn, to a doctor in Louisville for a checkup Friday.

Mrs. Robert E. Dupree and her sister, and children, from Franklin, Ohio, visited Della Riddle and Erna Eldridge on Bible Avenue Saturday evening. They had a real good time talking over old times.

Mr. and Mrs. Jody Ritchie visited her sister, Mary Johnson, in Vicco.

We had an all night singing at the Vicco Church of God recently. The Seventh Street Lexington Youth Choir was featured.

Mr. Dan Noble, of Sassafras is very ill in the Appalachian Hospital.

Mrs. William Combs and Mrs. Stacy came from Berea to vote and to see Mrs. Stacy's son, L. D. Stacy.

Della Riddle visited Edna King, who is very ill. Mrs. King plans to go to the hospital Sunday for an operation. Her brother, Earl Buckner and wife, visited her Sunday.

Mrs. Marvin Combs had a bridge party this week. Her guests were Pat Hanks, Mary Rachel Combs and Frances Napier.

Ben Johnson from Somerset visited his son, Charles Johnson, of Vicco, last week.

VA Questions And Answers

Q—My $5,000 U. S. Government Life Insurance is now paid up. However, my wife has just died. I have over a thousand dollars in bills, and twice as much insurance as I need. Can I change my insurance to meet this situation?

A—Yes. You may borrow against your insurance, or you may cash in part of it, retaining the amount of protection you consider necessary. Your beneficiary designation probably should be revised, too.

Q—What assistance can the VA give me in locating my husband who is receiving compensation?

A—The VA may forward mail to veterans. However, the VA is obligated to keep information concerning a veteran confidential and an address may not be revealed without the veteran's consent. Letters sent to the VA to be forwarded should be placed in an unsealed envelope and mailed to the VA Regional Office last known to have handled the veteran's claim.

Rehabilitation Pays Dividends

ASSEMBLY JOBS like this were part of the training process for Christine Davis at the Opportunity Workshop, Inc., in Lexington. She is shown here with Kenneth Powell, supervisor of contract work at the rehabilitation unit. Christine assembled as many as 1,600 of these latch covers a day. Burned severely and also a polio patient as a youngster, Christine even in her wheel chair now makes $52 a week, more with overtime, as the final tester on an electronic device. Her training, her progress, and now her self-supporting employment reflect the opportunities available in rehabilitation workshops. Some of these workshops are operated solely by the State Rehabilitation Bureau or in cooperation with other State agencies. Others, such as the one in Lexington, are made possible by local effort in cooperation with the State Rehabilitation Bureau.
